Dear Partner,

Grace and peace to you and yours.

Psalm 119:68 says, “You are good, and what you do is good...” (NIV) “You are good, and the source of good; train me in your goodness.” (Message Bible)

There are many scriptures that proclaim the goodness of God. And virtually everyone who takes the title of Christian will consent that God is a good God. But when it comes to excitedly expecting to experience that goodness, here and now, in every area of this life, many fall short. Psalm 27:13 reveals that we are to believe to see the goodness of God in this present life: “I had fainted, unless I had believed to see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living.” (KJV)

What has become more real to me in recent times is that we need a greater revelation of God’s goodness. It affects everything in our lives. The Lord’s access to perform His goodness in our life is limited by our faith in His goodness. (Ephesians 3:20 “...able to do...according to the power that works in us.”) And while it’s easy to say, “God is good,” just how good is He? And how much goodness are we really expecting to see? I’m believing that this CD and the available series called “God is Good” will help you to lay hold of the thrilling answer to these questions.

I am personally inviting you to come to our Marriage Meeting (June 2-6) and our Week of Increase (October 6-10) this year. Marriage is the foundation of the family and a revelation of the mystery and glory of Christ and the church. Our God is the God of increase, and His will is always more increase. All of us need to feed our spirit in these areas. Watching DVD’s, the Internet, and TV are great, but if you’re supposed to be here, nothing will take the place of that. The important thing is to be where the Lord leads us to be, all of the time.

Thank you for all the times you’ve responded to Him in praying for and sowing into this ministry. It is bearing fruit that will remain.

Laborers together in the Gospel,

Keith Moore
